

TRUST METHODS WERE NECESSARY

Say Leading Companies In Reply To Government's Charges Of Monopoly.

ALL ALLEGATIONS ARE DENIED

Federal And State Governments Charged With Failure To Enforce Law Against Striking Miners.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 31.—Reading company, the Philadelphia and Reading railway company, the Philadelphia and Reading coal and iron company today filed answers to the suit of federal government brought against them to break up an alleged monopoly existing in the anthracite coal regions of this state. The answers make general denial of the government's allegations. It is declared that the agreements in advance price of coal were brought about in 1900 by the violence and intimidation of striking mine workers, by the failure of the federal and state government to enforce the law, protect the coal companies and the importunities of the late Marcus A. Hanna, who it is alleged, was anxious to end the strike of miners on account of the impending presidential election.

NEW REGULATIONS ON DENATURED ALCOHOL

Denaturing Warehouses May Now Be Constructed In Commercial Centers Where Product Has Demand.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Aug. 31.—The denatured alcohol regulations, which were made necessary by the amendment act passed by the last congress, will come into effect tomorrow. The old regulations were found to be unnecessarily stringent at some points and the new regulations will liberalize materially the government's method of handling the denatured alcohol industry.

Under the new regulations, in addition to denaturing warehouses on distillery premises, central denaturing warehouses may be constructed at such points as business interests may require, and alcohol may be transferred from denaturing warehouses by means of tanks or tank cars to consumers.

Manufacturers using completely denatured alcohol are not required to swear to an application for permit. One of the most important features of the new regulations is that relating to the construction and operation of industrial or farm distilleries, which may produce alcohol from anything that contains fermentable matter. Industrial distilleries are divided into two classes. In the first class are placed distilleries of a surveyed capacity of fifty proof gallons. Distilleries of the second class are those that produce more than fifty gallons and less than one hundred gallons of distilled spirits only.

She was delighted with her bargain, and the Arab dealer was quite satisfied with the sum he received. But with the curiosity inherited from our first poor mother, she began to examine her mummy. She looked at it closely and even poked a hole in it. Then, encouraged by what she saw she proceeded to rip it open. Her mummy was stuffed with an English newspaper.

They believed it was her spirit returned to earth, and for a long time afterward imagined that they saw it floating about at night, visiting the woman's old haunts.—Outing.

THEOSOPHICAL SOCIETY'S PRESIDENT COMING OVER

Mrs. Annie Besant, Atheist And Religious Ec-centric, Will Soon Leave England To Hold Meeting Of Society In America.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Annie Besant, recently elected world president of the Theosophical society in succession to the late Henry Steele Olcott, has arranged to leave here next week for the United States. The purpose of her trip is to preside at the annual convention of the American section of the Theosophical society, which is to be held soon in Chicago. While in America Mrs. Besant expects to deliver lectures on theosophy in New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and other cities.

Even those who do not share her belief often speak of Mrs. Besant as one of the most wonderful women of the age. Her career, at any rate, has been a most extraordinary one. Early in life she married a minister, the brother of Walter Besant, the novelist, who disliked her, and who accepted the last syllable of his name because she accepted the first of hers.

Mrs. Besant's married life was unhappy. In 1874 she was legally separated from her husband, at her own suit, on the ground of cruelty, and was denied the custody of her children on the ground that she was an atheist. The real cause of the separation was her complete defection from the Christian faith and her refusal to take the communion in compliance with her husband's requirement. Her children, however, did not share her husband's views, and as soon as they reached their majority returned to her roof and continued to live with her.

Mrs. Besant's public career as a reformer, iconoclast, agitator, and philanthropist began with her separation from her husband. She was a born altruist, and with no sooner thought on her own resources than she plunged into the work of relieving the wants and sorrows of the poor in the East End of London. The accounts given of her self-denying labors for the poor women and much girls of that locality almost pass belief. She was known among them simply as "Annie," and addressed familiarly by that name on all occasions. She was their organizer, their sympathizer, and counselor, and it is solemnly asserted that at one time she denied herself necessary food to feed them.

It is said that so great was the attachment of the poor for her that she could visit localities in London with safety into which the armed police would not venture, and that she could dispel a mob with her presence and voice that had defied the whole municipal force.

When she abandoned Christianity she became a materialist. But while writing a review of Mme. Blavatsky's "Secret Doctrine" for William Stead she was unexpectedly converted to the system herself, and became from that time Blavatsky's apt and humble disciple, to whom the great teacher when dying bequeathed the mysterious finger-ring which she had received from her own great teacher in the east.

Mrs. Besant's history may be summed up as member of the Church of England, atheist, Pantheist, Socialist, editor, essayist, educator, labor organizer, humanitarian and theosophist. Her character is aptly described as gifted, erratic, and much abused.

Postmaster General Meyer and Secretaries Straus, Cortelyou and Bonaparte are expected at their desks, and Secretary McCall is to leave the Pacific coast some time during the week on his return to Washington. The condition of health of Secretary Root will force him to remain away yet awhile; and Secretary Taft will pass the greater part of the week in Yellowstone park before resuming his westward journey.

Buffalo will dedicate a monument of the late President McKinley on Thursday and on the same day a bronze tablet commemorating the signing of the peace treaty between Russia and Japan will be unveiled at Portsmouth, N. H.

September is a month of state fairs and conventions. During the week the annual state fairs will be in progress in Michigan, Minnesota and Ohio. The important conventions to be held during the week include those of the National Irrigation Congress at Sacramento, the Fraternal Order of Eagles at the Jamestown exposition, the National Association of Letter Carriers at Canton, Ohio, the National Firemen's Association at Oklahoma City, and the meeting of the executive committee of the Southern Cotton Association at Jackson, Miss.

RAILROADED TO A PRISON CELL NOW WANTS FREEDOM

Woman Serving Prison Sentence For Crime Her Husband Committed Years Ago.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Aug. 31.—Railroaded to prison for life on a charge of murder in the first degree, the crime having been committed by her aged husband, such is the pathetic story of Wilhelmina Baehr, which has been brought to the notice of Governor Davidson in the form of an application for a pardon for the woman. She has served 16 years in the state prison at Waupun, having been sent there on her plea of guilty to a charge which she was told was only such as to send her to jail for seven months, but which in fact was that of cold blooded murder. Wilhelmina Baehr came to this country a poor, ignorant immigrant girl, fell among the hands in Shawano county and upon the death of Mrs. Baehr was persuaded by her grown daughters to "marry the old man" and get a good home for life. The girl thus became the slave of a vicious old man and his four old maid daughters. A stranger, John Bell, came along with money and the Baehrs conceived the scheme of killing the traveler and having the crime upon the girl. Bell was killed, it is now said, by the old man Baehr, who fearing detection, was frightened into suicide. Then the green girl wife was arrested. The town chairman proffered a formal charge of murder against her and she would get only seven months in jail. She did so, not knowing the meaning of the word "guilty" and was sentenced to prison for life. Now the town chairman is a petitioner in behalf of her pardon.

BECKER OUT ON BIG BOOM TRIP

MILWAUKEE'S MAYOR MAKING
 TRIP OVER STATE TO CREATE
 FAVORABLE IMPRESSION
 AMONG FARMERS.

AFTEROFFICE OF GOVERNOR?

Will Make Speeches on Good Roads
 Next Month at County Fairs.

Supposedly for political purposes
 Mayor "Shorlde" Becker of Milwaukee made a trip of over 200 miles in his automobile Thursday and Friday, passing through Janesville, to arouse an interest in himself in parts of the state outside of Milwaukee, the provocation being to address the Dodge County Soldiers' and Sailors' association at Mayville. But his purpose was not only to talk to the old veterans and sailors of Dodge county, judging from his itinerary, for he stopped at many cities along his route, possibly only to shake hands with friends whom he may not have seen for some months past, but political aspirants
 are not accustomed to do such things merely for pleasure. The young mayor saw fit to come by way of Janesville and Beloit on his return trip to Milwaukee. From the arrival in this city he immediately inquired if certain men deeply interested in politics were in the city. Of course, it is the wrong interpretation to put into his meaning to say that he wanted to confer with these politicians but some-thought so. But Janesville did not look good to Milwaukee's boy mayor for he tarried only long enough to get a lunch, clean up a bit at the hotel,
 say "hello" to a few and then hastened on.

Drives Machine Himself.
 Mayor Becker drove his auto himself. He sat at the wheel with his private secretary, George R. Gove, at his left, while the townsmen who looked on the chauffeur who hounded in the back seat as the party sped out of town. The mayor paid a visit to the Gazette upon his arrival in the city. He wore a golf cap, a necktie shirt, and a pair of baggy trousers. A cool wind was warning him on such a sultry day as was yesterday. He said he felt very dirty
 after the ride here from Madison.

No Politicians For Him.
 "I don't want the politicians to come around me. I don't want anything to do with these old fashioned fellows who have been leading the state for years." These were some of the declarations he made when asked if he were going to hold a power in Milwaukee during state fair week when it is said all state politicians will gather in the metropolis to frame up the coming republican commonwealth ticket. "You can tell the politicians to stay away from me," he continued in vehement tones. "I had nothing to do with them when I was elected mayor of Milwaukee and I refuse to hitch up with them. They are not going to control me."

Out For Governor?
 When asked directly whether or not he were going to be a candidate for the coming republican governmental primary he said, "If a man is going to be a candidate he must get out and hustle. This saying 'I'll run if the people want me' is all bosh. A man must do his own announcing and hustling nowadays. How has it been in Milwaukee in the past when Dave Rose has declared he would run again for mayor if the people wanted him to. Shortly before time for the nomination about ten of his 'friends' would suggest that he better get his announcement out. That's an example of how the people want you to run for office." Again, Mayor Becker is not paying a clipping bureau a few cents
 a day to secure clippings from the newspapers of the state concerning his trip for the sport of the game. He spoke quite frequently about his clipping bureau while here and seemed to have newspapers in the state favorable to him well in mind and he also knew those who are "hustling" the boy mayor. The mayor's interest in what people outside of Milwaukee think of him appears to be keen enough to warrant a person standing

 next four weeks will then see a hot pursuit of Mayor Becker after popularity in the state with the ulterior motive of being seated in the governor's chair.

"THE COW PUNCHER" BY GOOD COMPANY

Approved by a Fair-Sized Audience at the Myers Theatre Last Evening—Drama by Hal Reid.

"The Cow-Puncher," Hal Reid's vivid drama of high lights and contrasts on the alkali plains, was given an excellent rendition at the Myers Theatre last evening by a company headed by Miss Gertrude Ritchie and Louis E. Ramsdell. Winsome and natural in her acting, Miss Ritchie in the character of "Gertrude Graham"
 brought to the inevitable love story
 all those elements which are relied upon to captivate and charm. Mr.
 Ramsdell as "Tom Lawton" was excellent in the "heroes" but the emphasis laid on his inability to write his name and his first pathetic efforts to learn to spell, together with his disingenuous and somewhat namby-pamby inquiries as to how the word
 "love" might be constructed, was in odd incongruity to the otherwise and elsewhere dramatic bearing of this bold and brave knight of the plains, and did not ring true. William F. Pfaff gave a remarkable portrayal of a Mexican greaser and proved himself to be a character actor of the highest ability. Bert Roza as the patriarch, "Spokane Ike," acquitted himself very creditably considering the commonplace character of his lines. There were some good specialties introduced in the second act, including "The Kid Who Took the Pyramid," by "Ike," and a clever whistling selection by Miss Ritchie which were received with general and genuine approval. The support was good, the scenic necessities all that could be secured, and the audience satisfied and appreciative. The company left for Waupun this morning.

MARK BOSTWICK WAS WELL TO THE FORE

Stood Well Up in List of Players on First Day—Lost Yesterday's Match.

Janesville was represented in the invitation meet of the Milwaukee Country Club golf tournament by Mark Bostwick. Mr. Bostwick surprised his friends by ranking seventh in the first eight Thursday with a score of 87, ahead of such players as State Champion Joseph of Madison, H.
 Cavanaugh of Kenosha and F. Pettit of Kenosha. Yesterday he played G.
 D. French of Rock Island and lost five up and four to play. There is some consolation, however, in the fact that Jacobs, Pettit, Hamilton, Vose, R. P.
 Cavanaugh and H. M. Pettit, all of whom crack players, were also defeated, showing that the winners were playing fast golf.

REFORMS IN RUSSIA.

In response to a demand for reform
 the czar, in a decree, announced that plans would be formulated for improving the conditions of rural life. From this distance it looks as if Russia needed most of all something to improve the home life and what could be better than to arrange for the sale of 1908 HUIR FLOUR throughout the empire. Here in Wisconsin we know that HUIR FLOUR makes splendid breads and it goes without saying that good things to eat make strong men and patriotic citizens.

JANESVILLE WON TWENTY-TWO UP

IN GOLF TOURNEY WITH ROCK-FORD TEAM YESTERDAY.

KEELER MADE ROUND IN 35

Crack Player from Forest City Equaled the Record for the Links—The Nassau System of Scoring.

The team of players representing the Mississippi Golf club of Janesville yesterday redeemed their defeat at Madison by triumphing their oldtime rivals of the Rockford Country Club to the tune of 22 up. There was no tumult or shouting over the result, of course, as the second day is to comfort the losing player by laying emphasis on the latter's bad luck and his own miraculous good fortune.

Thanks to the recent rains, the greens were in almost perfect condition, and the twenty-three players who came from Rockford on the 9:15
 car and were conveyed in automobiles to the scene of the fray, played in one voice the beauties of green-carpeted hill and vale, the tempting ramps served at noon and in the evening, and every appointment which Nature and Janesville hospitality had arranged for their comfort and enjoyment.

With the Nassau system of scoring,
 used for the first time here yesterday,
 an effort is made to equalize the elements of chance, and the frequent injustices which arise owing to the unbalancing of players of unequal ability. No contestant can make more than three points. It is possible for him to get but one for winning the first round of nine holes, no matter what the score by match play may be; a second one for winning the second round and a third for capturing the 18-hole match. If one round is lost he gets but two points. If one round is won but the other lost, the scores are compared and the player who obtained the most decisive victory gets the match, but only one point. The outcome of a contest by medal play—
 that is counting the total number strokes for the whole round, as opposed to match play where simply the holes won and lost are counted—often shows an important variation from the result as measured by holes.

Horus Brewer was defeated by P. E.
 Stone one up. Yet, as measured by medal play, both were entitled to equal honors. Mr. Stone made both rounds in 40 while Brewer made the first round in 39 and the second in 41, making their totals for the match by medal play identical.

Frank H. Keeler, who was defeated by Al Schaller in a close contest, played an extra round in 35, equaling the record for the holes which is held by Mr. Schaller. This feat will probably not be duplicated by any player during the present season. Ex-State Champion Hewitt's best score was 37.
 The medal play in the Schaller-Keeler
 match was as follows: Schaller, 38—41; Keeler, 40—41. The long drive of Anthony Holmes were a feature of the tournament.

Most of the Rockford delegation returned to the city immediately after supper at the clubhouse, departing for home on the 7:15 car. No arrangements for the return game on the Forest City course have yet been made. Madison will probably come here next week. The detailed results of yesterday's tourney follow:

DISTRIBUTION OF TOBACCO ACREAGE

Town of Fulton Holds First Place.
 Porter Second and Janesville
 Third.

Statistics of growing tobacco in Rock county, gathered by the tax assessors, show the distribution of acreage in the various towns. The town of Fulton, including Edgerton, holds first place with 2667 acres, town of Porter second with 946 and town of Janesville, including the city of Janesville, third with 897. These figures can not be considered exact
 as they were made from statements given out in May before the best was actually planted. Following is the table of this and last year's intended acreages:

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.
 The southern railway of Georgia has been having some trouble with the state authorities, and as a result the old question of state rights is again commanding attention.

The southern state is not the only one to assume unusual authority for all through the west ambition has developed to outdo neighboring states in reform legislation, especially in dealing with railroads.

Wisconsin carries the banner, as the Badger state was the first to discover the dire condition of the down-trodden masses and came to their relief.

Wisconsin has a tax commission clothed with unusual power, which is just now engaged in an effort to determine the physical value, not only of steam roads but of street railways as well.

Representatives of this commission recently visited the city and captured a tape line inventory of the Janesville street railway. It is presumed they also listed the rolling stock and other casualties for future reference and if good judges of this kind of property, they will strike an equation of about thirty cents.

In the mean time what happens to the corporation, it owns a valuable franchise and right of way privileges, which represent nothing but blue sky, from a physical standpoint.

The road changes hands and the new owners desire to bond it for a liberal amount and improve it. They appear before the tax commission, are confronted with a 30-cent physical valuation, and are told that they have no property to bond.

That's a fine proposition for an intelligent state to entertain, but that is where reform has left us our state rights in dealing with this class of questions.

The tape line inventory will doubtless be applied to the steam roads crossing the state and doing an interstate business. This is a waste of time, for all of these figures can be obtained from the companies' books, including not only the mileage but the earnings, bridges and all other equipment necessary to operation.

The fact is that no one state can determine the physical valuation of interstate railway property, and if it could, it amounts to nothing.

Railway property, like all other property, is worth what it will earn as a producer. If the money is full to return an income the physical value of the property is below par and on the way to receivership.

When the Janesville Cotton Mills were paying dividends the physical valuation of the property was not considered, but when the dividends stopped, and the company failed to make money, the machinery was sold for a song, and the real estate at heavy sacrifice.

State rights are being enforced in Texas to the detriment of the commonwealth, and it is an open question with the railroads as to whether or not they would be in safer hands, if placed entirely under the protection of government control. In fact, some of the roads are urging the President to favor this policy.

The fact is being very clearly demonstrated that a republican form of government is yet an experiment, and it remains to be seen whether the republic is equal to the strain. As wealth accumulates it becomes more powerful, and this power is not always in the hands of men who have the welfare of the nation at heart.

The railroads have discovered that they are largely responsible for present conditions, so far as public sentiment is concerned. They enjoy special privileges, and these privileges have so long been abused, that retaliation was bound to follow.

Corporate wealth is having much the same experience, but is more difficult to control.

It is a popular notion that the ignorant voter is a menace to the country, and this is true, but this is not the only source of danger. Deference of law, or evidence of law by intelligent classes, is more dangerous than ignorance, and this is practiced more widely today than ever before.

A merger of corporations is stopped by government interference, but in six months it develops full-blown in some other form, equally pernicious.

This is contrary to the spirit of the republic, and but tends to weaken its foundation. The love of gold and the greed for gain has become so absorbing that justice and equity are lost in the shuffle.

Men fail to govern themselves, and so the unwritten laws, so vital to the welfare of the nation, are ignored or violated.

The drift of the times is toward a mild form of monarchical government. When a state or a nation finds it necessary to take control of corporations and public utilities, it means that the people have lost confidence in themselves and they propose to place authority in the hands of federal or state power.

It will be found as time advances, that this machinery is too cumbersome, and unless we return to the age of common sense, the disposition will be to centralize power, either in the hands of one man, or a small commission.

While it is a compliment to President Roosevelt to say that he enjoys the confidence of the American people to such an extent that many believe that his continuance in office is necessary to the life of the republic, it is well to remember that this is an admission of national weakness.

Instead of depending on one man to enforce law, we ought to be in position to depend upon an army of men to see that it is not violated.

There never was a time in the history of the nation when men needed to recognize this fact more than today. The safety of America and its institutions is in the ability of its citizens to govern themselves. Love of law, and not fear of it, has won for us as a people, all that we enjoy. Let us continue to love and respect it, and the future will be full of promise.

PRESS COMMENT.

Not That Kind of a Fish
 Milwaukee Journal: Stay-away Fish is no mollycoddle anyway.

Prize Fool Remark of Season
 Milwaukee Sentinel: A Dr. McQueen says that Mr. Roosevelt ought to be king of America. To the doctor, therefore, belongs the palm for having said the foolahest thing yet.

Sufficiently Advertised
 Milwaukee News: Walter Wellman may not reach the north pole, but if he shall fail it will not be owing to any failure to recognize the importance of the preliminary arrangements.

Rest of Country Not Concerned
 Chicago News: There is business enough in the rest of the country, but Wall Street has been stung. The reason is plain enough—Wall Street at last has demonstrated to itself that it can't get rich trading jackknives with itself.

Britain Must Face Jap Problem
 Exchange: The Japanese are pouring into Canada in such numbers, despite the treaty stipulation with Great Britain that the number of Japanese subjects entering the Dominion should not be more than 500 or 600 yearly, that the people of Vancouver are vigorously protesting. This action on the part of British subjects may convince certain excited Japanese that the restriction of prejudice on the part of the people of the United States.

Richard Mansfield
 Evening Wisconsin: There will be none to dispute that the death of Richard Mansfield has removed the greatest actor of the contemporary American stage. Indeed so far was Mansfield in advance of his fellow historians on this side of the water that he had no rivals. It was, to borrow Macaulay's illustration, a case of "Jellies first, and the rest nowhere."

Yet to historians writing at a distance in the future from which he will fall into perspective, instead of holding the conspicuous place in the foreground he has occupied for so many years, it will be evident that his height was not that of the colossus of dramatic art. He was not a Booth nor a Forrest. Indeed he was unimpaired in tremendous parts and his work was more admirable for finish than for force.

The Quebec Bridge Disaster
 Evening Wisconsin: When a work of mechanical construction falls there are different directions in which the cause may be explored. Perhaps there was a flaw in the general design. Perhaps specifications were not accurately calculated. Perhaps the materials were defective. Perhaps the inspection was careless and bad workmanship was overlooked.

The collapse of the giant cantilever bridge near Quebec, in the process of construction, will long be remembered as one of the most colossal catastrophes in the history of engineering. At present there is no explanation of the cause.

The structure would have had the longest simple pin truss span in the world. Its total length was to have been nearly 3000 feet, comprising two 600-foot anchor spans, two 600-foot cantilevers reaching out over the river from the main piers of the towers, and a central suspended span of 670 feet.

Evidence which has lately been adduced that materials and workmanship are not as reliable as they ought to be, will be recalled in speculation as to the reason for this appalling disaster. The imperfect character of many of the steel rails laid on the railways of the country has led to countless breakdowns and provoked sharp criticisms. When materials are all that could be desired they are not always faithfully put together.

Have there not been ugly stories of putty covered with iron filings being used in the building of battleships in place of honest rivets?

Sometimes construction works fall on account of unlooked-for changes in their foundations. The submarine conditions at Quebec were obviously unfavorable, and that is the reason why the bridge was located at a distance of six miles from the city.

Passing of a Great Actor
 Milwaukee News: In the death of Richard Mansfield the stage has suffered a loss that it can ill afford to bear. At a time when the stage has been given over to the frivolous and the superficial, Mr. Mansfield held aloft his higher ideals and served to beat back the tide of immaturity that threatened to engulf it.

Whatever question there may have been as to Mr. Mansfield's rank as an artist, none could dispute the sincerity, the zeal and the intelligence that he brought to his task. He was devoted to his art. He was conscientious. Nothing was slighted. Success with him was not to be found in the net profits of his productions. He was willing to sacrifice financial considerations to artistic success. His revival of Henry V. was a gorgeous affair, but it cost him little or nothing for his season's work. Yet he was completely satisfied. And here we have the keynote of his success and of the service that he rendered to the public. He refused to commercialize his art. He was not a showy stage. And in the end he met with the rewards that real merit commands.

Mr. Mansfield was a greatly misunderstood man and he suffered much from the misconception of his character that arose from his occasional irritability. A man of nervous temperament, he could not avoid attacks of irritability, when exhausted by the heavy strain of his labors, yet he was a kindly and affable and considerate man. Excepting of his associates in the character of their work, he was considerate of their feelings and their interests. The occasional explosion was taken as typical of the man's temperament, and the impression became widespread that he was a tyrant with his associates and a person to be avoided if a snub or an insult would not be invited.

Mr. Mansfield's death will come as a personal loss to thousands of persons in every city in which he has appeared. His change was looked upon as assurance of a production that would be worthy and worth while. For whatever he undertook was well done. There were no failures in the Mansfield repertoire.

Wellman Still Waiting
 Evening Wisconsin: At last accounts Walter Wellman was still waiting for the favorable wind without which even the best of gas-bags with mechanical auxiliaries are of little account. The fact that the would-be aerial explorer cannot start when his ship is ready discredits the gas-bag airship.

Auto Fumes Spoil Foliage
 Exchange: The automobile is blamed for a good many things. Paris now declares that her beautiful trees are being destroyed by the fumes of gasoline. There may be instances of this kind, but trees are probably safe except where searchers are liable to run into them in making turns.

Dan on "Sword-Swallowers"
 Green Bay Gazette: The hotel stewards' convention at Chicago is to take action calculated as a crusade on the time honored practice of eating with a knife. If they could secure a few haughty dames to sit at each table and properly frown on the sword-swallowing fraternity their step should meet with success.

An Over-the-Shoulder Job
 Milwaukee Sentinel: Henry Waterson says of Mr. Taft: "The people go to hear him not as a showman, but as a representative. . . . He appears in all the dignity of a statesman, and asks not a penny for his speeches." Another more of a dig at Mr. Bryan than of a tribute to Mr. Taft, we fancy.

Gypsy Business Syndicated
 Exchange: The Gypsy business has been syndicated. Monstrous Viewpoint of "Finance"

 Wall Street Journal: Frank Jay Gould, in an interview in the Herald, says: "If we could only have war with Japan right now it would not be such a bad thing as it seems on its face. For one thing, it would take Roosevelt's attention away from Wall Street and direct it in a new line."

"There are a good many people besides Mr. Gould who would be glad to have the President's attention diverted to other things, and no doubt there are a good many people who would be glad to have war, as war produces fictitious activity and inflation of public ideas never from domestic matters in which there is controversy and to international issues in regard to which there would be apt to be a patriotic unanimity."

War, however, would be a fearful price to pay for any such relief.

PIONEER AMONG TOBACCO BUYERS

MYRON H. SOVERHILL IN BUSINESS FOR MANY YEARS.

FIRST COMMISSION DEALER

Was Man of Strong Religious Convictions and Prominent Member of Presbyterian Church.

By the death of Myron H. Soverhill yesterday morning Janesville and Rock county lost one of their most prominent citizens. He was a pioneer resident, prosperous farmer, successful business man, eminent church member and head of a leading family. His demise, which was not unexpected, came peacefully. Though seventy-nine years of age, Mr. Soverhill has been physically active and mentally vigorous until five weeks ago when his final illness began. He retained his mind being clear and bright until a few days before his death when he sank into unconsciousness. From that time the death summons came. While he began to fail in strength five weeks ago, he was about the house until last Tuesday when he found himself unable to dress as usual.

Came to County in 1850. Mr. Soverhill was one of the sturdy, energetic, upright pioneers to whom the upbuilding of Rock county has been so largely due. Born in Newark, Wayne county, N. Y., July 14, 1828, he was married on Nov. 16, 1851, to Miss Adeline Sanford, also a native of Newark. Together they came west in January, 1856, their first western home being on the farm between Edgerton and Fulton which Mr. Soverhill still owned at the time of his death. After residing for twenty-five years at their country home, Mr. and Mrs. Soverhill moved into Janesville, living in the fourth ward for two years and then purchasing the property at the corner of Washington and Havine streets which is still the family home and where Mr. Soverhill's death occurred. There, surrounded by their children, grandchildren and relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Soverhill celebrated their golden wedding, Nov. 16, 1901, and there Mrs. Soverhill's death occurred Feb. 11, 1903.

In Business Many Years. While a man of unobtrusive personality, Mr. Soverhill was possessed of forceful character and strong convictions. His strict integrity, his devout Christianity and his vigorous strength marked his business life as strongly as it did his home life and he was daily recognized as one of the leading farmers of the county. He planted and harvested one of the first crops of tobacco in Rock county in 1858 and in 1869 he purchased the first tobacco plantation on commission in the state of Wisconsin. This was at Edgerton, Mr. Soverhill's keen business insight early giving him confidence in the county's future for tobacco growing. Later he engaged in the buying of leaf tobacco and wool, continuing in the business actively up to the time of his death.

Mr. Soverhill was a man of intense religious nature and an optimistic cheerfulness. A man of deep faith. For over twenty years he had been clerk of the session of the First Presbyterian church, a position which he held at the time of his death.

Children and Grandchildren. Of seven children born to Mr. and Mrs. Soverhill, five survive. They are Sanford Soverhill, Mrs. E. G. Tracy, Mrs. Florence DeForest, and Mrs. J. J. Mount of this city, and Mrs. T. H. Carle of Edgerton. Eleven grandchildren also mourn their grandfather's death, they being the Misses Cora, Laila, Edith, and Wilma Soverhill, Miss Helen and Myron Tracy, Alan and Kenneth Carle, Miss Anne and Harry De Forest, and Stuart Mount. Mr. Soverhill's youngest sister, Miss Mary Soverhill, also survives him, she having made her home with him for many years. There are two brothers in the east, Andrew and Edward Soverhill of Newark, N. Y.

Funeral Announcement. In the absence of the Rev. J. W. Langhain, who is on a ranch in Wyoming for his vacation, a telegram has been sent to the Rev. E. H. Pence of Detroit, former pastor of the Presbyterian church, asking him to come to officiate at the funeral. In the event of his inability to come, the funeral service will be held at the home Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The burial will be in the cemetery at Fulton where Mrs. Soverhill, one son and one daughter lie buried.

McGregor of the faculty of the State Institute for the blind last June, was stricken with ptomaine poisoning on the train while en route home from New York city with her uncle, F. M. Jensen. ## TRIED TO LOOT THE PASSENGER DEPOT

Two Men Boldly Attempted to Rob Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Depot at Noon Yesterday.

During the absence of Ticket Agent Gesme and Operator George Davey of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul ticket office, at lunch Friday, two men entered the station and in view of several passengers who were waiting for trains, entered the ticket office, opened the safe and tried to get the cash drawer which contained $255 in cash. Evidently they were frightened away as they left in a hurry, leaving a broken safe and a yale lock key in the lock of the cash drawer and the safe and its contents have been missed and the occurrence is considered one of the boldest attempts at daylight robbery that has occurred in Janesville in some time. A lady who was sitting in the depot waiting room says the men unlocked the office door with a key but investigation shows that they forced this door and broke the lock. The safe was not locked, merely shut and contained no money. The cash drawer resisted their efforts and they evidently were frightened away. Railroad detectives are investigating the occurrence.

Statements made by Ross constituted the only evidence against the men and the state decided to drop the case.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPERS HOME FROM DELAVAN

After Successful Outing at Lake Young Men Return to City Last Evening.

Reminiscing a bunch of "hush browned," 36 members of the Y. M. C. A. camping party returned home last evening from Lake Delavan, where they spent a ten days' outing. The party was composed of intercollegiate and juniors, the former predominating. In numbers, Secretary J. C. Kline, Field Secretary H. E. Berryman and Swimming Instructor Arthur Patches, who accompanied the campers during their outing, returned home with the party last night, bringing with them a record of an excellent and pleasant trip. The absence of any accidents bespeaks the care and caution taken by the adults in charge of the camp. This was the eleventh outing of members of the association. It being the seventh successive year that the camp has been at Lake Delavan. Secretary Kline originated the outing eleven years ago when he took the first party of campers for an outing. The camp brought to a close yesterday is considered the most successful one ever held by the association. It was large in numbers and the interest taken by the campers in the program arranged was more intense than during any previous outing. Last Sunday a visiting minister at Lake Delavan was requested to give a short talk to the young men, all of whom attended the short service and appreciated the discourse. A Sunday school session was also held. An hour was devoted every morning to the discussion of biblical subjects in keeping with the location of the camp upon the lake's bank such as the story of Jesus walking on the sea of Galilee.

All members, their wives, families, and close friends are scheduled to begin at half past ten o'clock and meet at the river. Numerous family picnics and party outings, up the river, on the Wisconsin line and at different nearby lakes will be held.

VISITOR IN THE CITY WHO WAS DECORATED BY MANSFIELD

Will Read Dunroy, Advance Man For "Coming Thro' the Rye," Tells of an Interesting Incident.

Will Read Dunroy, advance man for "Coming Thro' the Rye" which appears here Tuesday evening, was a pleasant caller at the Gazette office this morning. Mr. Dunroy formerly contributed a column of verse occasionally to the Chicago Chronicle and one of his poems, written in appreciation of the late Richard Mansfield, brought an acknowledgment from the great actor together with a facsimile of the Legion of Honor badge worn by "Baron Cheri" in "A Parisian Romance." "I cannot decorate you with the real one so I am sending the imitation," wrote the actor. In this connection it may be interesting to note the fact that Richard Mansfield presented "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" in Janesville right after his Madison Square Garden success in 1898. He had been seen in Chicago and Milwaukee.

REV. R. M. VAUGHAN IS TO PREACH ON LABOR

At the Baptist Church Tomorrow Morning—Has Just Returned From Lengthy Vacation.

He will occupy his pulpit at the First Baptist church tomorrow and will deliver a Labor Day sermon which will be especially interesting to workmen.

Trinity Church—Fourteenth Sunday after Trinity. Holy communion 7:30 a. m. Second celebration and sermon 10:30 a. m. The pastor of St. Luke's Whitewater will officiate.

Worthy Advice.

If thou art rich, then show the greatness of thy fortune, or what is better, the greatness of thy soul, in the meekness of thy conversation, condescending to men of low estate, supporting the distressed, and patronizing the neglected; be great—Stoicism.

All Done by Electricity.

Electricity is being applied more and more to machinery used in British coal mines. Some mines are now so fully equipped that nothing workable by electric energy is otherwise operated.

Slam Child's Handicap.

The English vocabulary of a slum child of five, according to a Scottish school inspector, contains only two or three dozen words. That of the average child of the middle classes of the same age is about 1,000 words.

TOBACCO BUYERS LOOKING AT CROPS

Delayed Harvest is Under Way. Later Fields Have Been Making Best Progress.

Edgerton, Aug. 31.—The delayed harvest is now getting well under way in most growing sections of the state, and aside from the fact that the tobacco is hardly up to the average size, is going into the sheds in very fair condition. The later fields have been making the best progress of the season during the week past and bid fair to reach nearer the usual size and yield. There is a good deal of late stuff, however, whose status is not yet determined, which a late fall might help.

Buyers are putting in a good deal of time in the country, watching the progress of the crop and keeping tabs on the most promising fields, which gives rise to the rumors that contracts are being placed. There seems to be at least two very good reasons why an early market need not be looked for. Few growers care to sell at this stage, remembering the experience of last season, and fewer still are the buyers prepared to pay the prices which most farmers would name.

The market for old leaf brings no new developments. Some sampling of last season's packings is being done but sales have not proceeded far enough to establish the price so far. Aside from a small business to manufacture the only sale of any size reported is 200 cases of low grades by Geo. Hummel.

The shipments out of storage amount to 200 cases for the week to all points from this market.

WIRE STRIKE NEARING END.

Companies and Leaders of Men Expect Settlement Soon.

New York, Aug. 31.—The strike of the telegraph operators which has been in progress throughout the United States for several weeks will come to an end by the middle of next week, according to prophesies made by both the strike leaders and the company managers Friday. The opposing leaders are by no means agreed upon the conditions which will bring about the settlement, however. On that point they appear to be as widely apart as at any time since the strike began.

Daniel L. Russell, of the telegraphers' union, said he is confident that next Wednesday will see a complete capitulation of the companies with the granting of all the demands made by the strikers. Superintendent Brooks of the Western Union said he believed that empty pockets of the strikers will lead to a solution of the trouble. Some of the men already are returning to their old places, he said, and he looks for a general break in the ranks of the strikers by the middle of the coming week.

Jersey City Has Big Fire.

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 31.—Fire which broke out shortly before midnight in the building occupied by Sacco & Triest company, builders, on Hudson street, was not controlled until it had done damage which is estimated at $250,000. The storehouse and stable of the Uvalde Asphalt company, the preserve manufacturing plant of Causon & Co., and the plant of the Manhattan Electrical Supply company, were destroyed.

Louis Glass Is Found Guilty.

San Francisco, Aug. 31.—The jury in the case of Louis Glass, vice president of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company, Friday night returned a verdict of guilty. But one ballot was taken. The convicted official was indicted for bribing supervisors in connection with franchises.

Roosevelt to Be An Editor?

New York, Aug. 31.—That President Roosevelt intends to become a New York editor was the interesting information that reached Park row Friday. It was said the president had arranged to secure control of the New York Tribune, and to assume its direction after he leaves the White House in 1909.

"My reproach," said the admiral in great surprise. "What mean you? I am not reproachful."

"Sir," cried the astonished captain. "It was brought here by your ward, Lady Elizabeth Howard."

"Elizabeth Good God!" cried the old man, starting violently. "Her maid said she was ill. She must have—Did you inspect it carefully, sir?" he asked, checking himself.

"Yes, my lord. It seemed to be all right, but the whole proceeding was so irregular and unlike you that I called upon—"

"Where is the paper?" cried the admiral, interrupting impatiently.

"I have just sent to fetch it, sir."

"They waited in silence until a midshipman placed it in the hand of the admiral. The old man held it tight while the old man seized it, scrutinized it eagerly and handed it back to the captain."

young man brokenly. "I think you will bless you for this. Tomorrow I shall plead my cause in a higher court. Think of me kindly, sir."

"And you have done this work and wrecked yourself for a woman? You have been a fool, sir! What woman that ever lived was worth it?" said the admiral shortly.

"This one," replied his son. "I loved her. I love her still."

The two men looked at each other in silence. The admiral rebuked a little—it was for the last time—and drew the boy to him. He lifted his hand to the sky in silent prayer.

"All hands make sail!" hoarsely cried the admiral at the instance of the executive officer. "Lay aloft, topman!"

The admiral turned away and Coventry was alone. He walked over to Captain Pearson.

"Father gives me a chance to die," he said. "I have no more to say to you."

"I am glad to hear it," said the captain, his face lighting up. "We are short a lieutenant; I could use you in the forward division of the main deck battery. Do your best with it."

"I hope to serve it well," said the young officer, saluting proudly and springing toward his station.

"Anchor's away, sir!" cried the officer forward on the forenoon.

"Man the topmast sheets and hal-yards, let fall, sheet home, hoist away!" roared the captain, himself seizing the trumpet. As the broad folds of canvas dropped from the wide reaching yards, the noble ship gathered away and sailed out to try her fortune.

NAVAL ACADEMY TEAM WINS

CAPTURES NATIONAL TROPHY IN CAMP PERRY SHOOTING.

Massachusetts and Ohio Marksmen Second and Third Respectively—Conditions Are Dismal.

Camp Perry, O., Aug. 31.—The United States Naval academy team won the national trophy in the national rifle match which was concluded here Friday. Its score was 3,421.

The Massachusetts team, with a score of 3,418, was second. It will be awarded the Hilton trophy. Ohio finished third with a score of 3,368, and its contestant team will receive the bronze statue, "The Soldier of Marathon."

The United States cavalry team was fourth, the Washington team fifth, and the Naval cadets sixth. The latter three teams will receive cash prizes and a medal.

The conditions on the 1,000 yard range during the close of the national match were dismally hot. The sun was causing mist to rise from the damp ground and from shifting intruders between the targets and the firing line. Some of the marksmen were almost exhausted by the strain and humidity and sought their quarters for rest before lunch.

Hundreds of spectators banked the ropes back of the firing line as the match drew to a close and the range officers repeatedly had to warn them against noise and comments that might confuse the contestants. Shooting in the national individual rifle match began at one o'clock Friday afternoon. At the end of the skirmish and rapid fire contests Sergeant M. H. Dunbar, of the United States Infantry, was in the lead. Mississippi Lee, of the Naval academy, was second. An effort will be made to finish this match Saturday.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 31.—By authority of President Roosevelt, James H. The verdict of the people in those territories, recently expressed, will be accepted by the president as final, Mr. Garfield said.

Nebraska Creameries Win.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 31.—The state railway commission Friday sustained the motion of the creameries of Nebraska asking the rejection of the request of railroads and express companies to advance rates on cream shipments.

Less Crocodile-Stealing.

We fancy that after what has happened to a Mr. Kraus, of Buda-Pesth, thefts of crocodiles will become less common. Mr. Kraus broke into a circus at night time to steal a crocodile, but when, in consequence of Mr. Kraus' equals, assistance came, it was found that the crocodile was stealing Mr. Kraus.—Punch.

SOUTHERN WISCONSIN BUSINESS COLLEGE

JANESVILLE, WIS.

The High-Grade Commercial School of the Northwest

The School With a High Standard

The Southern Wisconsin Business College has always stood for a high standard of scholarship. At present it is the only school in Southern Wisconsin that is affiliated with the Wisconsin Commercial Educators' Association. The standard set by this Association has been recognized by the University of Wisconsin. Therefore, the intending student will do well to discriminate between high standard and low standard schools. Many of the non-progressive schools have seen fit to set their own standard for graduation, some of which are so ridiculously low that the shrewd business public has seen fit to discriminate against the graduates of such schools. Our graduates never fail to satisfy the demands of the most exacting position and thus are in demand at present.

NOT A GRADUATE IS UNEMPLOYED.

The School Engaging Only Specialists As Teachers

To enable us to bring our students up to the high standard which we have adopted it is ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY to employ only capable teachers. All our teachers have had PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE as well as several years of SUCCESSFUL TEACHING EXPERIENCE. Without these two important qualifications no teacher, no matter how conscientious, can be successful in the school room. Many schools do not employ such teachers because it costs more. We consider this false economy and we assure every intending student that the teachers of this school are men of the highest scholarship and ability. In selecting a school, look carefully into the qualifications of the teachers. "As is the teacher, so is the school."

IT PAYS TO ATTEND A PROGRESSIVE SCHOOL.

The School With Modern and Practical Courses of Study

No school can long command the confidence of the business public that does not furnish a course of study THOROUGH and PRACTICAL and at the same time COMPREHENSIVE enough to meet the demands of the modern business office. There are schools who claim superiority that have not made a change in their courses or methods in the past ten years. We find it necessary to make frequent changes in order to furnish our students with the very latest ideas and methods of business. Investigate our NEW CHARTER SHORTHAND and OUR TWENTIETH CENTURY BOOKKEEPING AND ACCOUNTING to teach which we have secured EXCLUSIVE RIGHT for this territory.
